All investing involves risks, including the possible loss of principal. There can be no assurance that any investment strategy will be successful. Investments fluctuate with changes in market and economic conditions and in different environments due to numerous factors, some of which may be unpredictable. Each asset class has its own risk and return characteristics. Asset allocation and diversification cannot eliminate the risk of fluctuating prices and uncertain returns nor can they guarantee profit or protect against loss in declining markets. Dividends are not guaranteed and are subject to change or elimination. Risks associated with the Technology sector include increased competition from domestic and international companies, unexpected changes in demand, regulatory actions, technical problems with key products, and the departure of key members of management. Technology and Internet-related stocks smaller, less-seasoned companies, tend to be more volatile than the overall market.

Key distinctions

- A focus on strong companies that are expected to deliver consistent dividend increases
- Expectation of a yield greater than that of the S&P 500, with attractive total return through price appreciation plus dividends
- Seeks to provide downside protection with lower beta compared with the S&P 500
- A diversified but high conviction portfolio of 40 to 60 stocks
- Low portfolio turnover with a tax aware process

Investment philosophy

We believe:

- Companies that have a history of consistently increasing dividends have significant signaling qualities
 - The ability and willingness of management to return capital to shareholders
- Company has sustainable competitive advantages
- Company is financially strong and allocates capital prudently and effectively
- Identifying strong companies and holding those businesses through full market cycles lead to investment success
- A diversified, but focused, portfolio of companies with the ability to raise dividends regularly will offer investors strong risk-adjusted returns with superior downside protection during periods of market stress

The Current Equity Income Managed Account Composite (Composite) seeks to offer investors a diversified, conservative, high-quality portfolio with above average dividend yield and strong dividend growth. As a result of this investment style, the Strategy is expected to outperform in declining or stable markets and exhibit less volatility over a complete market cycle. It typically holds 40 to 60 stocks across multiple industries and sectors. Focus is on investing in dividend-paying equities that are believed to have sustainable dividends with dividend growth potential, that collectively provide a diversified Strategy with a yield that is higher than the current broad market average. Investment results are measured versus the Russell 1000 Value Index. The portfolios in this discipline have been sub-advised by Allspring Global Investments, LLC since inception. The Composite creation and inception date is February 1, 2023. Since inception, wrap accounts represent 100% of the Composite assets.

Composite returns are expressed in US dollars and reflect the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings. A wrap-fee account is an account under which a client is charged a specified fee or fees not based directly on transactions in the client's account for investment advisory services and execution of client transactions. A typical wrap-fee account client pays an all-inclusive "wrap fee" for the advisory, brokerage, custody and other services associated with the account. Net returns are net of the maximum wrap account fee, which includes commissions and transaction costs and are calculated by deducting 1/12th of the annual wrap fee from the Composite's monthly pure gross return. Actual fees may vary depending on the applicable fee schedule. The maximum fee used for the portfolios in the strategy is 3.00%. Some accounts in the Composite may pay commissions in addition to the wrap fee. Additional information regarding Allspring's policies for valuing investments, calculating performance, and preparing GIPS Composite Reports is available upon request. A list of composite descriptions, a list of limited distribution pooled fund descriptions, and a list of broad distribution pooled funds are available upon request.

Internal dispersion is the equal weighted standard deviation of the annual gross returns of all accounts included in the Composite for the entire year. For years where there are 5 or fewer accounts in the Composite for the entire year, dispersion is not presented as it is not a meaningful statistical calculation. The 3-year annualized standard deviation measures the variability of the gross Composite returns and the index returns over the preceding 36-month time period. The notation "N.A." (not available) will appear for periods, if any, where 36 monthly returns are not available for the Composite and/or the index.

Actual performance results may differ from Composite returns, depending on the size of the account, investment guidelines and/or restrictions, inception date and other factors. Performance for some accounts in this Composite may be calculated by third parties that use different security pricing and performance methodologies. Past performance is not indicative of future results. As with any investment vehicle, there is always the potential for gains as well as the possibility of losses.
