Through the use of a negative screening process, the fund seeks to exclude certain securities in accordance with its exclusion policy. A copy of the methodology and list of excluded investments (including the revenue thresholds) is available under allspringglobal.com. Shareholders may also request a copy from the fund or the Management Company.

The fund may use futures, forward contracts, options, or swap agreements, as well as other derivatives, for hedging or ecient portfolio management purposes. The fund looks to invest in companies that have the prospect for improving sales and earnings growth rates, that enjoy a competitive advantage (for example, dominant market share) and that it believes have effective management with a history of making investments that are in the best interests of shareholders (for example, companies with a history of earnings and sales growth that are in excess of total asset growth).The fund seeks to identify companies that embrace innovation and foster disruption using technology to maximise efficiencies, gain pricing advantages, and take market share from competitors. Price objectives are determined based on industry-specific valuations methodologies and in addition to meeting with management, the fund takes a surround-the-company approach to obtain multiple perspectives that help it make better investment decisions.

Risk and Reward Profile

This rating system is based on the volatility of the fund's returns over the past 5 years, using returns from an appropriate index for periods before the start of the class. Please note past returns may not be a reliable indicator of the future risk and reward profile of the fund; the rating may change over time based on future returns; and category 1 does not mean a risk-free investment.

The following additional risks may impact the fund's returns:

Counter-Party Risk - The fund may incur a loss if the other party to an investment contract, such as a repurchase or reverse repurchase agreement or certain derivative contracts, fails to fulfill its contractual obligation to the fund.

Derivatives Risk - The use of derivatives such as futures, options and swap agreements, can lead to losses, including those magnified by leverage, particularly when derivatives are used to enhance return rather than offset risk. In addition, there may be an absence of a liquid market for any particular instrument at any particular time.

Market Risk - The market price of securities owned by the fund may go up or down, sometimes rapidly or unpredictably. A security may decline in value due to factors affecting the issuer or securities markets generally or particular industries represented in the securities markets.

Smaller Company Securities Risk - Securities of companies with smaller market capitalisations tend to be more volatile and less liquid than larger company stocks.

The fund may not achieve its objective and/or you could lose money on your investment in the fund. For more information about the fund's risks, please see "Risks" and "Risk Management Processes" in the prospectus, which is available at allspringglobal.com.
