Dear Valued Shareholder:

We are writing to inform you that the funds listed below paid distributions to shareholders on the payable dates below.

When the funds pay distributions from sources other than net investment income, we are required to notify you. Please note that no action is required on your part. These figures are computed on a financial statement basis and are provided for informational purposes only; they should not be used for tax reporting.

Distributions composed of both net investment income and paid-in capital:

Distributions from paid-in capital do not affect the total return of the fund. Such distributions may ultimately represent a return of shareholders' original investment in their shares rather than a dividend; however, that determination is unable to be made until after the fund's fiscal year-end and will be reflected on your IRS Form 1099-DIV.
