Without this cap, the costs shown above may have been higher. Please see the prospectus for the amount and the expiration date of the cap. Prior to or after the commitment expiration date, the cap may be increased or the commitment to maintain the cap may be terminated only with the approval of the Board of Trustees.

How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

Economic and market commentary

Over the past year, U.S. investors balanced opportunity and risk amid shifting central bank policies, postelection trade uncertainties, and bond market volatility. Inflation concerns persisted, but the Federal Reserve held rates steady, supporting economic growth. Global markets faced economic challenges. Mid-2024 rate cuts boosted equities. Postelection political uncertainty weighed on market sentiment. Entering 2025, inflation moderated, but shifts in trade policy kept markets volatile.

Significant portfolio changes

In January 2025, we diversified our fixed income holdings by establishing positions within income plus and core plus bonds. In March, we consolidated our large-cap U.S. value exposure. We also replaced the existing large-cap U.S. growth exposure with a new strategy.

Top contributors

Manager selection within the U.S. large-cap core space and international core equity holdings were top contributors. Within fixed income, U.S. core holdings and nontraditional exposures added to relative value.

Main detractors

Tactical Asset Allocation detracted from relative performance.
