What were the Fund costs for the past year?

The table explains the costs you would have paid within the reporting period based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment.

CLASS NAME	COSTS OF A $10,000 INVESTMENT	COSTS PAID AS A % OF A $10,000 INVESTMENT
Institutional Class	$43	0.41%

The manager has contractually committed to waive fees and/or reimburse certain expenses to the extent necessary to cap the Fund's total annual fund operating expense ratio at a specific amount. Without this cap, the costs shown above may have been higher. Please see the prospectus for the amount and the expiration date of the cap. Prior to or after the commitment expiration date, the cap may be increased or the commitment to maintain the cap may be terminated only with the approval of the Board of Trustees.

How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

Economic and market commentary

Over the past year, U.S. investors balanced opportunity and risk amid shifting central bank policies, postelection trade uncertainties, and bond market volatility. Inflation concerns persisted, but the Federal Reserve held rates steady, supporting economic growth. Global markets, including Europe, China, and Japan, faced economic challenges. Mid-2024 rate cuts boosted equities. Postelection political uncertainty weighed on market sentiment. Entering 2025, inflation moderated, but shifts in trade policy kept markets volatile. Flexibility in portfolio management remains crucial.

Significant portfolio changes

We had limited equity activity, selling U.S. energy stocks in May 2024. In fixed income, we established emerging market bonds in September, and sold global credit exposure, reduced U.S. bond exposure, and added a core plus bond allocation in January 2025.

Top contributors

Downside Risk Hedging in April 2025 added to performance. Manager selection also added value, especially in large-cap U.S. core equity and nontraditional fixed income.

Main detractors

Tactical Asset Allocation detracted from relative performance.
